Cashmere

When world-renowned interior designer Jacques Garcia renovated the Champ de Bataille castle, the result was dazzling. The property came back to life with an atmosphere, a decor sticking to its values. So, on a cold winter day, near a stone fireplace, a sweat treat spontaneously took place in the former stables. Wrapped in a pashmina, between leather and corduroy, Cashmere was born.

The origin

Parfums La Manufacture is a fragrance house of character, founded in 2011 combining fragrance and historical architecture.

The house is inspired by places steeped in history: castles, mansions and private residences.

The soul of each place is transcribed in a unique way by using beautiful raw materials selected for its origin and its texture: to understand the ingredient to better compose with it.

Visiting monuments awakens our senses, some details bring us to a specific scent, a source of inspiration for our creations.
